MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING.

(Held May 31, 1890, at the residence of Mr. J. B. Atherton.)

The meeting was called to order by the President, Dr. A. B. Lyons, and was opened with singing by the Society, and prayer by Rev. Mr. Bingham.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The minutes of the Board of Managers were also read.

The collection was taken, and amounted to $19.

On suspension of the rules, Rev. O. P. Emerson presented the report of the Committee on a Home for Hawaiian Girls. He stated that the Committee had rented a building, engaged a matron and a dressmaker; that $1,000 had been pledged toward the support of this home, and that the Committee ask for $2,000 more. Furthermore, they desire that the Cousins' Society undertake the management of this Girls' Industrial Home.

After discussing the report, it was decided that the Society was already responsible for the support of this Home, as the idea had originated in the Society, and all the steps so far taken toward establishing such an institution had been sanctioned by the Society. It was thereupon voted that the supervision of this Home be left to a committee, and that the same committee, viz., Miss M. Brewer, Rev. O. P. Emerson, Judge Dole, Miss N. J. Malone and Miss M. A. Chamberlain continue to serve.

Appropriations were as follows :

For the inauguration of Industrial Home for Hawaiian Girls	$3,000
For work among Hawaiians, to be paid to the A. B. C. F. M. for disbursement by the Committee on Hawaiian Evangelization, at their call.....	1,000

For the support of teachers in Kawaiahao Seminary	300
For the support of pupils, preference being given to the children of missionaries and ministers, in Kawaiahao Seminary	450
Same for East Maui Female Seminary	450
Same for Kohala Girls' School	300
Same for Hilo Boys' Boarding School.....	500
For the support of such boys as may be approved by the Board of Managers of the Society in such schools as they may approve.....	300
For Marshall Island Training School.....	75
For Ponape Girls' Boarding School	100
For Kusaie " " "	100
For Ruk " " "	75
For Mortlock and Ruk Missions	500

Total.....	$7,735

The following were the officers elected for the ensuing year:—President, Dr. G. P. Andrews; Vice-President, Hon. H. Waterhouse; Recording Secretary, Mr. R. A. Lyman, Jr.; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. L. B. Coan; Treasurer, Mr. F. J. Lowrey; elective members of Board of Managers, Mr. W. W. Hall and Mrs. McCully.

The following persons were made eligible for membership: Mr. L. L. Sutherland, Mr. T. Richards, Mr. S. M. Sayford and Mr. H. J. McCoy.

For the remainder of the evening the Society was entertained with remarks by Mr. Inch and Mr. Hudson, of the Charleston, and Mr. S. M. Sayford and Mr. H. J. McCoy.

After singing the Society adjourned, to meet in two weeks at the church parlors for the adjourned annual meeting.

Respectfully submitted,

L. C. LYMAN, Recording Secretary.

MINUTES OF THE ADJOURNED ANNUAL MEETING.

(Held June 14, 1890, at Central Union Church.)

The meeting opened with singing by the Society, and prayer by Rev. O. P. Emerson.

The incoming President, Dr. G. P. Andrews, occupied the chair.

The minutes of the annual meeting were read and approved.

The collection was taken, and amounted to $ 12.65.

The reports of the Recording Secretary, Treasurer, and Corresponding Secretary were read, accepted and adopted, and ordered printed.

The reading of subsidiary reports of the Corresponding Secretary were deferred, for lack of time, to the next meeting.

Several selections of music were rendered during the evening—the first a chorus by the choir, and later a piano duet by Misses Hopper and Atherton.

The retiring President delivered an able address on "The Christian's Vow of Poverty," which was ordered printed.

Miss R. H. Beckwith was appointed committee on music for the next three months.

After singing the Society adjourned, to meet in two weeks at the residence of Hon. H. Waterhouse.

LEVI C. LYMAN, Recording Secretary.

MINUTES OF THE SECOND ADJOURNED ANNUAL MEETING.

(Held June 28, 1890, at the residence of Hon. Henry Waterhouse.)

The meeting was called to order by the President at the usual hour. The opening exercises consisted of the singing of a hymn, and prayer by Rev. E. G. Beckwith.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. A collection was taken amounting to $15.40.

Mrs. L. B. Coan read the reports received from the several schools which receive aid from our society. On motion of Miss M. A. Chamberlain, these were ordered printed in the annual report of the Society, as supplemental to the report of the Corresponding Secretary.

The report of the committee appointed last year to consider what changes in the Constitution of the Society were desirable was read, and, after lengthy discussion, its recommendations were adopted as follows:

To amend Article 7 by striking out the present article and substituting the following:—"Any other persons in active sympathy with the object and aims of the Society may become members by recommendation of the Board of Managers, approved by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the Society, on payment of fees as in Article 6."

To amend Article 10 by prefixing thereto the words: "All members of the American Protestant Mission are ex officio honorary members of this Society."

A third amendment, submitted at a previous meeting by Dr. Lyons, was also adopted, striking out in article 3 the final clause: "All members of the Society are eligible to any of these offices."

The tediousness of the long business session was relieved by some very enjoyable selections of music, including a piano solo by Miss Carrie Castle, a piano duet by Misses Widdifield and Cornwell, and a solo by Mrs. Storrs.

[Some other business not pertaining to the order of the annual meeting was transacted, which is omitted from this report.”]

L. C. LYMAN, Recording Secretary.

REPORT OF THE FOREIGN AND HOME CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

FOREIGN DEPARTMENT.

The last Annual trip of the Morning Star from Honolulu to Micronesia was begun on the 1st of August, 1889. The religious farewell exercises were marked by unusual interest. A precious reinforcement was on its way to the needy fields. Its members were Mrs. Snelling, whose beaming face spoke the joy of her heart that she was thus surely embarked for her chosen work and for reunion with the husband whose lonely exile she was hastening to cheer; Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Forbes, young and earnest, whose wedding trip was this long journey to distant Ponape; Mrs. Cowles going to the same island to the help of resolute little Miss Palmer in the Boarding School; Rev. Mr. Walk-up, who having left his little ones provided for in the States was bravely returning to work alone for a while among the Gilbert Islands; and Mrs. Logan, whose steadfast devotion to the Master's cause was leading her back to a sacred grave on Ruk, and to the people to rescue whom Robert Logan had given his life. Rev. Mr. Mahoe, with right arm helplessly crippled long years ago by the bullet of a Gilbert Island savage, was going as delegate of the Hawaiian Board.

The Star was provisioned for an absence of ten months, but on Nov. 18th she dropped her anchor in our harbor, and our anxious queries for the cause were met by the reply that Dr. Lucy Ingersol and Miss Crosby having broken down in health had been advised to return at once, and that Miss Smith had come for a needed change, and to aid in caring for the invalids on the voyage. It also appeared that the Star, in spite of many repairs at large cost put upon her in the summer, was now needing more. The smoke-stack, forming the base of the main-mast, had crushed down, the ship narrowly escaping from fire by this failure of the pipe. Repaired and equipped again for duty, the Star left on 3rd Dec. to complete her year's work, and returned to us on the 27th April. The dear, worn out brother, Mr. Doane, had been brought by her for medical aid, and for rest imperatively needed. There were also the Hawaiian missionaries, Mr. Paaluhī and Mr. Lutera, whose wives, after an absence of only two and a half years, were invalids. Some of the reports from the field were bright and cheering; others were dark and sad. The continued encroachments of the Spaniards; the exactions of the Germans, who fined the Morning Star twenty-five dollars for presuming to visit an island before reporting to them; the return to heathenism of some who had been considered converts; the thieving annoyances of the Truk savages; and the sudden death of Mr. Forbes were painful things to hear.

It cheers us to learn of the successful establishment of Mrs. Logan's school at Anapauo, and we read with deep thankfulness of the marvellous change at Ngatik, where after repeatedly refusing to receive a teacher, the people have now accepted the gospel, and are turning to the Lord with almost one heart. A blessing attended the work of Mr. Walkup on Nonouti during his seventeen weeks' labor there.

We sincerely thank Dr. Pease for his kindly expressed appreciation of our little aid to his work.

Far to the West our missionary cousins are still building the wall over against them. Rev. O. H. Gulick, with apostolic zeal, marches and counter-marches over his broad field in Southern Japan, spending nine months of the year in his tours. His sister Julia pursues the same vigorous course of reaching the people, holding meetings with Christians and unbelievers, sometimes having hardly a moment to herself from rising time till retiring time. Indirectly we have learned of kindly and valuable services done by Rev. S. L. Gulick with his brother-in-law, Rev. C. A. Clark, at the time of the great earthquake in Kumamoto, for the frightened and homeless people of that city. We record with regret the prostration in health and suspension of labors of Dr. Gulick. With his wife he left China early last year, tarrying for a season in Japan and California before going on to be with his sons in New England.

Of Miss M'Cully at Tokyo, Miss Gulick writes: "She is busy as a bee teaching the Japanese to read and write English. She shows her sunshiny, Christian face to the pupils, and has the satisfaction of knowing she is keeping some unchristian person from filling the place and exerting evil influences."

The name of Cousin Hattie (Sturges) Crawford has been upon our Report as the only representative of her family since her marriage. She has three children; would not some friend be glad to place them on our list of Life Members? Mrs. Crawford and her husband have lately had the pleasure of seeing built and dedicated the first Protestant Church in the big state of Sonora, possibly the only church on the West Mexican Coast.

Mrs. Shepard writes from Aintab of the wonderful reviving that, under the preaching of a native evangelist, had come to those eastern churches; and tells us of a Young Woman's Christian Endeavour Society of over a hundred members, of which she had been president. "The revival," she writes, "gave our Society a new impetus. With joy I saw timid disciples encouraged and strengthened to witness for Christ as they had never done before."

In addition to the public annual reports of the missionary work done in Spain under superintendence of our cousins Alice Gordon and William Gulick, which he sends us, comes a delightful letter from him with a few personal items too good to be omitted from our report.

They had recently closed their school year with 41 boarding pupils and 100 day scholars in attendance. With one exception, the older girls are Christians and members of the Church. In the musical velada, which followed the literary exercises of their annual examinations, Mr. Gulick says they had received public recognition such as never before in Spain has been accorded to a Protestant missionary institution of any kind. The San Sebastian dailies abounded in appreciative—not to say enthusiastic—comments on the performance, giving a list of very prominent personages in attendance. "Perhaps," he says, "it will not be put down to parental pride, but as showing the recognition accorded to us by the community, that I should add the following comment made by all four of the papers in almost identical terms: 'The pianist, young Frederic Gulick, who received the greater part of the applause, was the delight of the public through the entire evening.'"

We regret that the story of the loan of their piano (a gift to the school from friends in the States) for use in a concert to the Spanish Queen Regent, cannot, for lack of room, be told here.

Having been able to buy a ticket good for eight days from San Sebastian to Paris and back again, for five dollars, Mr. Gulick went to the Paris Exposition. Of this he writes : " While zig-zagging my way up the avenue that was lined by the Spanish, American and other foreign exhibits, suddenly my breath was almost taken away as the greeting aloha seemed to be called out to me from the loving salutation in large letters on the walls of the little house that held the articles from Hawaii. As I entered the door and found myself surrounded by the familiar objects of long ago, I could not restrain exclamations of delight and love. And the sight of the poi-pounder! that almost made me cry." Early in May, Mr. and Mrs. Gulick were making a little tour with Mr. and Mrs. S. Alexander, their three daughters and Miss Mary Alexander. Never before since he left the Islands, some thirty years ago, had he been brought so near his old island-home by long conversations about old-time friends.

Twenty rich pages from General Armstrong supplied a feast for one of our monthly gatherings. In them he discusses change and growth in the South ; reviews with admiration the prompt, efficient suppression of the Wilcox rebellion, and gives us timely homelies, good for meditation : " Don't think the Hawaiians hopeless because easily misguided. The boys and girls of the coming generation may have strange crises to go through. Stand by your country. These emergencies will be your best educators. Difficulty will do more to make you men and women than big dividends. * * * Dr. Dwinell speaks of Christianity as the strength of the country. It is ; but more is needed—more applied Christianity, more hard work on Christian lines, more personal effort by many individuals."

From the venerable and beloved Mother Armstrong, nearing the 85th milestone of her life, we have an interesting, vigorous letter of sixteen pages. She tells us of her pleasant surroundings in San Jose ; of the lectures in the State Normal School, at which she is in frequent attendance ; of a delightful visit to Menlo Park and Pala Alto. In closing, Mrs. Armstrong writes : " I realize the infirmities of old age, but they rest more lightly upon me than on many who are younger. I stand on the distant shore of time, waiting for the shadows to lengthen a little. The 'Gates Ajar' are sometimes almost visible. In silence I repeat :

' I am weary, I am weary,
 With the cares and toils of life ;
 I am weary with its sorrows :
 Am weary with its strife ;
 I am weary with the flowers,
 That bloom so soon to die ;
 The immortal spirit pineth
 For its home beyond the sky.' "

From Mr. Philip Inch, Chief Engineer of the U. S. Flagship Charleston, whose presence we enjoyed at a late Cousins' meeting, we learn that Mrs. Dibble, the mother of Mrs. Inch, is well and vigorous in her 83rd year. She is able to walk two or three miles on the Sabbath in regular attendance upon sanctuary services.

From Mrs. Lucy (White) Palmer we have these pleasant words : " I try to imbue all my children with something of my own aloha for my dear old home, and am anxious that they should see it sooner or later. Herbert often begs to be taken thither, and is very anxious to see the volcano before it goes out. * * * Give our greetings to the Cousins, and if any of them come this way let them run out to this modest, but historic, old town (North Weymouth). They will find in the parsonage a warm welcome from us all."

Dr. Henry M. Lyman, of Chicago, has shown his deep and long continued interest in his native land by the recent bestowment of a reed organ to the Haile Church in Hilo, designing it as a memorial offering for his beloved parents and their associates, Rev. T. and Mrs. Coan. After years of very faithful study at the Rush Medical College, Chicago, Francis A.

Lyman has received just promotion to a responsible position in the Wisconsin State Hospital for Insane.

During the past year Arthur Alexander has won credit in the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale as Assistant to Professor Hastings, in the Electrical Laboratory. He comes for his summer vacation to his island home, after an absence of five years.

Luther H. Gulick, Jr., is settled in Springfield, Mass., as a physician. Edward L. Gulick is reported by his father as doing good work in the pulpit and parish of Groton, Mass.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

Three anniversaries of special interest to us have occurred within the year. The first on June 9, 1889, was the Jubilee Anniversary of the completion of the Hawaiian Bible. Judge Judd delivered a most able address in the native language on that occasion before a large assembly in Kawaiahao Church, repeating the same in English before a foreign audience in the Central Union Church. The second, on October 30th, was the Centennial of the birth of Hiram Bingham, pioneer missionary, when a tablet of marble from his native State, Vermont, with fitting inscription, was placed by the side of the corner-stone of Kawaiahao Church, in the presence of hundreds of attentive spectators. The third was on April 11, 1890, the Seventeenth Anniversary of the completion of the Gilbert Island New Testament. It was also the day of completing the entire scriptures in the Gilbert Island language, and many cousins and other friends gathered in the evening at his home to congratulate the translator, Rev. H. Bingham. Very different in character from these events were those on the thirtieth July, 1889, a strange and startling day, when insurrection, bloodshed and death were rife in Honolulu. At the earliest alarm numbers of the cousins rallied with true bravery about the points of greatest danger, and were in action or on guard through all the hours of that memorable day. Their wise counsels and loyal deeds aided largely in the maintenance of law and re-establishment of order.

Hon. S. M. Damon has done faithful service for the country as Minister of Finance. From the leading journal of the Kingdom we quote this just estimate of his work: "Not for many a long year has so able a report on the national finances been presented to the Legislature."

The courage and perseverance of Mr. B. F. Dillingham have been crowned by the successful completion of his enterprise, the Oahu Railway, which brings Pearl Harbor and the new settlement, Pearl City, within less than an hour's ride of the capital.

For the information of absent cousins we would mention that Honolulu now has twelve miles of tramways, connecting Waikiki, Punahou, the wharves, Kamehameha School and Nuuanu Valley with intermediate thoroughfares; that an excellent carriage drive leads to the summit of Punchbowl, that our city is lighted by electricity, and that almost countless telephonic wires run along the streets, finding entrance into nearly every cousin's home.

Charmingly located in the suburbs of the city is the "Lunalilo Home" for aged Hawaiians. When about a year ago the superintendence of this institution was put into the hands of Mrs. A. O. Forbes, we rejoiced that one so truly qualified for such a care had been called to the post, and that for her and her family such a pleasant home was provided. She has met its duties with great devotion and acceptance.

Throughout Hawaii nei no less than fifteen Sabbath Schools are superintended and supported largely as to teachers by the cousins. These mission Sabbath Schools are for various nationalities. Mrs. Hattie (Castle) Coleman has long led a very interesting Bible Class on Wednesday evenings of intelligent Japanese young men.

In addition to the Society's appropriations for Hawaiian boarding schools, hundreds of dollars are donated in other ways for these institutions by our members. The reports of the several Principals will be appended.

As to our traveling representatives, so constant is the tide of those who go and come it becomes impossible to note them all.

Miss Gilman and Miss Atherton have returned after years of careful culture, rich in preparation for valuable aid as teachers and as Christian workers.

That which we hoped might be has been realized, and Dr. Andrews with his family is resident with us. Mrs. Andrews, with gracious bearing, takes her place among us as if she had never been a stranger. The cousins who journeyed to the Eiffel Tower came safely back, bringing delightful reminiscences and some rare bits of art. Mr. Joseph Emerson visited the McCall Mission in Paris and was greatly interested, as also in Christian work among soldiers in Rome. His special studies were the museums of the great cities.

We have missed Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Whitney from our circle for many months. Severe illness required his seeking change in California. Dr. Hyde is also absent, entrusted with the important charge of securing the evangelistic workers so much needed here, and a new President for Oahu College. It is with deepest regret we record the near departure of Rev. W. C. Merritt and Mrs. Merritt, whose interest in and faithfulness to our society has been exceeded by none. Mr. P. C. Jones has just returned from an extended trip among friends in the States, with wife and daughter. In his absence he sent to the auspices of the Honolulu Y. M. C. A. the earnest evangelist, Mr. S. M. Sayford, whose labors here in a series of very precious meetings we have recognized as a blessing from the Lord. Mr. Sayford and his friend, Mr. McCoy, General Y. M. C. A. Secretary of San Francisco, were received into membership of H. M. C. S. by acclamation.

DEATHS.

“There is no death! What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the life elysian,
Whose portal we call Death.”

Only six months on earth lived baby Jeanie Evans Carter; then, on the 30th July, 1889, she passed the portal seeking the shelter of the Shepherd's arms.

On the 16th of August, Emma Mahelona's babe of sixteen months went to the same safe, sweet shelter.

Aug. 20, 1889, at the home of his grand parents in Minneapolis, died Horree Van Cleve Hall, aged eighteen. He had heartily consecrated his life "to carry the precious Truth to perishing souls." God called him to other service.

Another who had just put on the armor for missionary work was called to lay it off,—and Rev. J. J. Forbes died at Kusaie, Oct. 29, 1889.

At San Francisco, Jan. 15, 1890, Mrs. W. H. Diamond.

At Thompsonville, Ct., Jan. 20th, 1890, Rev. James Ely, aged 91, a member of the first reinforcement to the Islands and missionary here for seven years. "He was gentle, loving, earnest, faithful."

At Grinnell, Iowa, Jan. 25th, 1890, passed in peaceful sleep to the fulness of strength and life beyond, Prof. Fisk P. Brewer.

At San Francisco, Jan. 28, 1890, in the freshness and beauty of her young life, Pauline Fyfe, aged 17.

Twelve years ago there were added to our list of Honorary Members the names of Rev. James R. Boyd, D. D. and Mrs. Boyd, the honored parents of Mrs. A. F. Judd. Year after year as our Reports have been issued it has been a pleasure to send their copies to those steadfast friends. But now they are no longer on earth. Geneva has been exchanged for Heaven. For fifty-seven years they had walked in dear companionship, when on the 6th of August, 1889, a day of separation came. Mrs. Boyd so long the joy and light of her husband's home, of rare mental gifts and vigorous energies passed on first to the further shore. Six months of loneliness, but of saintly submission, remained for Dr. Boyd, when as the evening shadows of Feb. 19, 1890, had gathered over his home by the lake, the days of waiting ended, and he stood with those around the Throne, in the splendor of God's eternal day. It has been justly said that his serene, childlike, and profound piety revealed a soul standing in the clear sunlight of the gospel truth, and dwelling in intimate fellowship with the Lord.

In San Francisco, March 5, 1890, Mr. George C. Williams.

From her home in the beautiful "Rose Garden" of St. Augustine, Fla., Mrs. Lucy (Bingham) Reynolds went on Easter morning, April 6, 1890, to be forever with her risen and ascended Lord.

On the morning of April 10, 1890, the beloved mother Hitchcock, aged 81, joined the blessed company of our missionary parents in the heavenly land.

At Kualoa, Oahu, April 18, 1890, Charles Hastings Judd, aged 54.

At Honolulu, May 15, 1890, Rev. Edward T. Doane, aged 70. He had come among us to rest for awhile, but his eager heart always intent upon the Master's service, was full of longings for a new lease of strength and life to live and work the century out. When he recognized the Father's will to be his going home to Heaven now, he went with serene composure, carrying on into that life beyond the portal the love and peace born of the Spirit.

"To pass through the pearly gates of the New Jerusalem, to gaze at its jasper walls, to tread its golden streets, to handle its harps and palms and crowns, to hear its mighty voices and melodious songs, to be surrounded by its splendors and filled with its magnificence, shall be the portion of all who have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb." Thus from his pulpit once spoke Rev. Salmon McCall, our Cousin Emily Whitney's husband. Into that beatific portion he entered Sept. 17, 1889.

MRS. L. B. COAN,
Corresponding Secretary.

Kusaie, January 31st, 1890.

MY DEAR COUSINS:

We were no less pleased than surprised, the other day, to read that you had donated to the Marshall Islands Training School seventy-five dollars for the current year. We beg you to accept our unfeigned thanks for this increased amount, which is going to help tide us over a special emergency. Heretofore we have made an annual tour among our islands, taking along with us all our scholars. During the cruise they live on the Star and do not draw upon the school supplies at all. This year we have to omit the tour, and consequently there are two additional months during which we have to feed them all. So your gift is most opportune.

Our scholars have done very well during the past year. It has sometimes been rather hard work to keep the school going, owing to the unusual number of sick ones I have had to care for. Yet we have hardly lost more than one week from all hindrances whatsoever.

We have several scholars all ready to go to work as soon as I can go to the islands and locate them. Those now in the field seem to be doing good service. One of them, however, Likilol, whom we left in Namerik two years ago, has recently finished his course. He was a good faithful man, and has, I doubt not, entered into the "rest that remains"

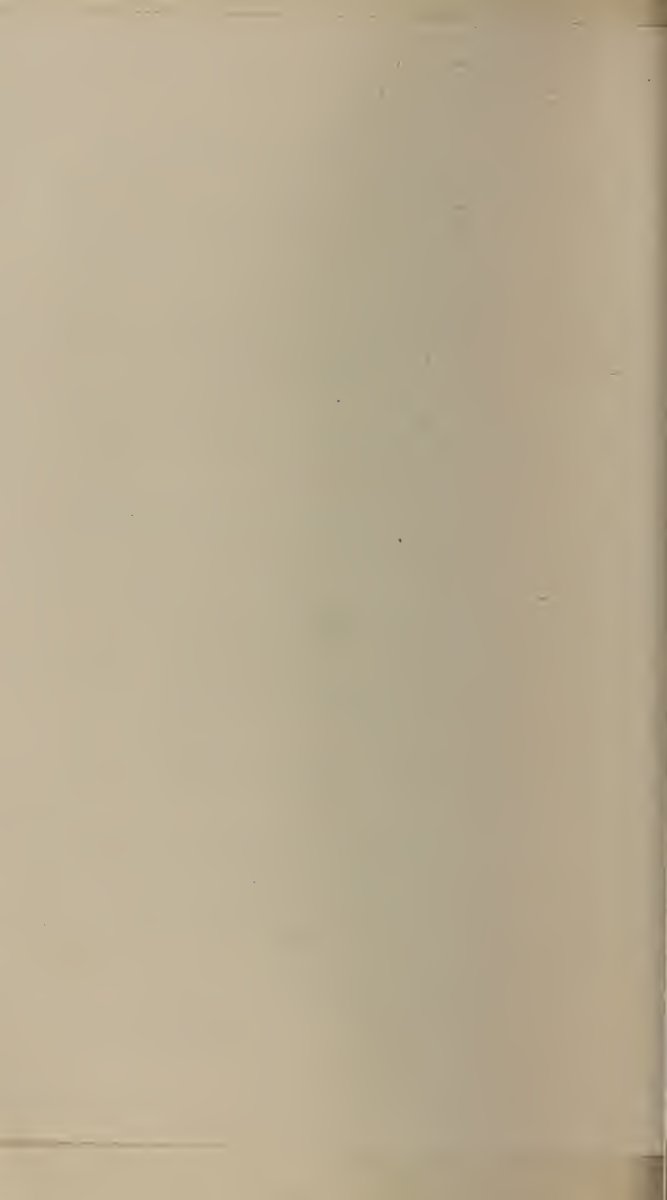

We wish you a hearty Godspeed in all your large and manifold good work. We are all laboring in one and the same cause for the same Master. The work is great—the time is short—the reward inconceivably glorious.

Let us all thank God every day for the privilege of working for him.

With all kindly salutations,

Yours faithfully,

E. M. PEASE.

REPORT OF HILO BOYS' BOARDING SCHOOL.

Quite a number of our larger boys failed to return to school this year, some having taken schools to teach, and three entering the Kamehameha School. Their places, however, were filled with younger boys, so that the number in attendance now is thirty-two—about the same as at the end of last year. Aside from this change in the character of our pupils, and the change in grading consequent upon it, the school shows no marked difference from last year. Last year we had a gentleman assistant the first half; this year Miss Lyman, Mrs. Burt and myself have done the teaching without break. Miss Lyman has done excellent work, and the school (as well as Mrs. and Mr. Terry, the Principal and Vice-Principal elect) is to be congratulated upon having her services for another year. Aside from regular class-room work, I have conducted classes in printing and carpentering, with some degree of success. The income derived from permanent funds, the A. B. C. F. M., together with the generous grant of $500 from your excellent Society will just about balance the current expenses for the school year. When the school accounts for the year are made up, I will mail you a financial statement.

As this is probably my last communication to your Society, allow me once more to express my sincere thanks for the generous aid the H. M. C. S. has afforded Hilo Boarding School ever since my connection with it, and bespeak its continued aid, moral and financial, under the new directors.

Most sincerely yours,

ARTHUR W. BURT.

REPORT OF THE EAST MAUI FEMALE SEMINARY.

Miss Carpenter writes :

“ There have been 107 different girls in the Seminary the last year—103 at present, the largest number we have ever had. This, I fear, is not entirely owing to a greater interest in education, but to the fact that Mr. H. P. Baldwin and others have contributed so liberally for the support of girls.

“ We have had almost uninterrupted health the entire year. Measles have broken up schools in the neighborhood, but they have not come to us.

“ Seven girls have united with the Church since January 1st.

REPORT OF KAWAIAHAO SEMINARY FOR THE YEAR 1889-1890.

The reports from a school from year to year must be by necessity very similar. If the same teachers remain in charge, and the school is a progressive one, they will be frequently referring to past years, and taking some satisfaction in the fact that many and great improvements have been made.

The present year seems to us to have been a very successful one, and the condition of things we consider far better than at the close of last year. Teachers and pupils have worked together in great harmony. There has been as little friction as could be expected in a school of this size. Less change has been in the school than there was last year, but not quite as large a number. The whole number enrolled has been one hundred and twenty-five. Two have been married, and one, we expect, will be before the end of the term.

We have had no serious sickness, although there were thirty cases of measles the last month of the first term, and this term there have been fifty-five cases of la grippe.

Dr. McWayne is always untiring in his attendance. Dr. Day very kindly took his place during his absence from Honolulu.

Eight of our girls were examined to unite with the Church at the last communion, but one was suddenly called home, and so was prevented from doing so.

We gratefully acknowledge the assistance we have received from many friends, from private individuals and societies and Sunday-schools who support pupils here.

The work of each week is made lighter because Dr. Beckwith's cheery face is seen on our school platform as regularly as Monday morning comes around, and Mrs. McCully closely follows in Dr. Beckwith's footsteps, as she faithfully leads the Monday afternoon prayer-meeting.

The girls during this year have shown an unusually deep interest in the Lima Kokua Society. Many have spent hours of their playtime working to earn money for it.

Mrs. Coan, the President, has been present at all meetings, excepting those that occurred during her visit at Makawao. Mrs. Bingham, with all her other duties, kindly consented to lead the meetings at that time.

We have endeavored to promote sociability between the pupils of Kamehameha School and ours. The boys have had three socials with the girls, and now eight are coming each Saturday afternoon for an hour's game of croquet.

A good many improvements have been made about the grounds. The latest and most important one has been the erection of a cottage for the sick. It is through the generosity of Mr. Charles Cooke and Mr. J. B. Atherton that we have this cottage, which consists of a large, pleasant room for sick girls, a teacher's room, medicine closet, bath-room, and veranda enclosed by blinds. Other improvements have been made during the year. An addition has been built to the ironing-house, a satisfactory arrangement for draining the wash-house and bath-rooms and a general improvement in the sewerage has been made; twenty new cupboards have been put into one dormitory, new desks into the Primary room. At the beginning of the year we decided we would have only iron bedsteads in the dormitories, and succeeded in having all the old wooden ones replaced by iron ones with but little trouble.

In September Hon. A. S. Wilcox gave us $500 to use in any way we saw fit. Part of it was put with a gift from Mr. J. B. Atherton, and used to purchase a brake. A new harness, a gift from Mother Castle, had been on hand for some time waiting for a new carriage to go with it. In speaking of helpful friends, although we cannot mention all, dear Mother Rice must not be omitted. She is always thinking of us and doing for us, and it seems as if there was nothing she could do to help us that she does not think of. It is impossible to express how much we shall miss her this coming year. We still have one pressing need—a high board fence around our back lots—that the girls might have the freedom the added room would give.

Our concert in March was a financial success, about $400 being cleared, which will be used to furnish the cottage. We are greatly indebted to Mr. Berger for his kind assistance.

A few weeks ago we gave a lunch, with two objects in view—first, to show what the girls, with some assistance, were able to do in the domestic department; second, to obtain money to supply the girls' and teachers' tables with new dishes.

At the close of the year we will have a fair, in order to exhibit and sell plain and fancy articles made by the girls in the sewing classes.

Now the year is rapidly drawing to a close, and before us is the three months vacation, which will bring temptations in various ways to many of our girls. Our prayer is that they, with God's help, may be strong enough to resist.

HELEN A. PEPOON, Principal.

REPORT OF CHINESE MISSION SCHOOLS.

DEAR COUSINS:—It is a pleasure to report that the work in that department of our Chinese Mission for which the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society makes annually so generous an appropriation, namely, the schools for boys and girls, is making encouraging progress. Most truly do we appreciate the increase in your gifts this year, which has been of great service in the enlarged work upon which we have of late entered. More and more are these schools making themselves felt among our Chinese population, and to no agency now at work can we look with more hope for evangelization of this large heathen element in our community. Here are being trained under Christian teachers, those whose influence is to be felt in a marked degree, both here and in their native lands. Hence it is a matter of the very greatest importance that we do all in our power to improve the opportunity to the utmost. The schools have been recently reorganized and more carefully graded. New and spacious school-rooms have been secured for the boys' school in the Chinese Y. M. C. A. Hall and these have been furnished with desks and blackboards, so that they present a most attractive appearance. The gentlemen in charge of Queen Emma Hall, have most kindly allowed us the use of a room in that building for the girls' school, which has proved a great aid to us. Since January, 1890, some 72 boys have been connected with our boys' school, with an average attendance of between 50 and 60. Our cousin, Miss Mary Green reports: "There have been 47 girls in the girls' school during the year since Sept., 1888; three have entered Kawaiahao Seminary, one Japanese girl has gone to Japan. There are now 35 names on the roll. I have had also during the year nine little girls whom I have visited in their homes." Miss Ostrom continues her labors in the school at Kohala where she has 36 pupils under her care. Mrs. Simpson's school of 9 wide-awake boys in Wailuku is one of the brightest points in all our work. Sunday school work for children has of late been especially encouraging. It is gratifying to feel that nearly 200 children have come more or less directly under the influence of our day and Sabbath schools during the past year. The subject of boarding schools, is one which is beginning to call for serious consideration. This is a good work in which perhaps our Cousins' Society may yet see the way clear to take the lead. There could be no nobler work for our Society to initiate. The influence of a Christian home would be a power for good the advantage of which it would be difficult to overestimate.

Very sincerely and gratefully yours,

FRANK W. DAMON,
Supt. Chinese Mission Work.

E. & O. E.

Honolulu, H. I., June 14, 1890.

While the report for the year may be considered very satisfactory on the whole, there are a few points in connection with the opening of the new year to which the Treasurer would call attention.

First of all in the personal responsibility which each member should feel in regard to meeting the obligations incurred by the Society in the new list of Appropriations which you have heard read, and which are so largely in excess of those of any former year in the history of the Society.

Commencing the year with a balance on hand of $455.07, we close with $1,676.26, a gain of $1,221.19 after having paid out about a thousand dollars more than in any previous year, but it is to a comparatively few of our members that we are indebted for this showing.

The subscriptions the last year, from the Island of Hawaii $365.00 were from 8 persons; Maui $614.79 were from 6 persons; Kauai $700.00 were from 3 persons; Oahu $1,759.50 were from 28 persons, and from Abroad $276.50 were from 12 persons, or a total of only 57 persons out of our whole membership.

Some of the Honolulu members give regularly through the monthly collections, but when the average for the year was only $14.65 for each taken, it can be readily seen that that source of income is of very small moment as compared with what we have to raise.

Others give in the form of Life Memberships, which of course is just as acceptable to the Society, but it is hoped that more attention will be given to the matter of subscriptions this coming year by a greater number of "Cousins" than usually respond to the call of the Treasurer.

Respectfully submitted,

F. J. LOWREY,

Treasurer H. M. C. Society.

ADDRESS OF THE RETIRING PRESIDENT, DR. A. B. LYONS.

THEME: THE CHRISTIAN'S VOW OF POVERTY.

It is not long since a worthy member of this Society was made the subject of a most bitter and rancorous attack on the ground that, belonging as he did to the wealthy class of missionaries, he so far surpassed his pampered brethren in the splendor of his palatial mansion as to invite the envy of all persons of moderate means in Honolulu.

The rich vocabulary of one of the most vigorous writers of our day is exhausted in the storm of invective with which our modern Don Quixote overwhelms the missionary nabob. To readers knowing Dr. Hyde only through the introduction gained by Mr. Stevenson's "Open Letter," there must seem to be some ground for the charges so boldly made and so urgently pressed home. There would seem to be also something noble in the frenzy of a rage inspired by a purely virtuous indignation. The writer, who seems to have analysed his feelings carefully, reiterates this until his very protestations make one question their sincerity.

Published in Sydney, where Dr. Hyde may be supposed to pass merely for a man of straw, the letter may possibly have had the effect of exalting the humanity of the writer, who would have us know him as a "hale fellow well met" with society's outcasts, over that of one whose life is ostensibly consecrated to humanitarian work. Yet even in Sydney we suspect that there were not wanting profane persons who thought they could detect in the bitter invective of the open letter the peculiar flavor of the gall of personal spite.

We have been surprised, and pleased, that enemies of the missionary cause should have gone out of their way to give a wide circulation here to the open letter. It would have been possible to make judicious quotations from it which might influence opinion to some extent, coming from such a source. But the republication here of the document without abridgment was a very short-sighted policy. It is true that it merely reiterates what has been said over and over by the enemies of the missionary, but the charges are now made in specific form and over a responsible signature. We are no longer compelled to be content with a general denial of vague charges. "Missionaries are the princes and millionaires of the land:"—that we have heard before, but now the finger of denunciation is pointed individually at our neighbor Dr. Hyde, and our incredulous ears hear the prophet's solemn "thou art the man," addressed to one of whose income and expenditures we can all judge. Best of all, we are told with charming naiveté, that the writer's eyes were only opened to all the magnificence of the doctor's style of living by a remark made by a gossiping hackman. The gift to see ourselves as others see us is one we have sometimes, with the poet, foolishly prayed for; in the main it is better to trust our own independent vision.

It would be interesting to try to analyze the processes of mental action which culminated in the production of the open letter. It is said that Mr. Stevenson has dreamed out some of his most striking romances. The most charitable view we can take of the letter is perhaps that it was of somnambulistic origin—unless indeed we dismiss it, as Dr. Hyde magnanimously does, as only another vagary of a chronic "crank." Into this inquiry, however, I do not propose to enter further. It has suggested to me as a theme for this evening's discourse "The Christian's vow of poverty."

That we are under some such vow seems to be taken for granted by many who are not Christians. We missionaries, Mr. Stevenson says, are rich, and this by implication is held up as a reproach to us.

I wish we could have in print the narratives recorded in the private diaries of those who, sixty and seventy years ago, came here as pioneer missionaries. We should find no complaints there of privation and hardship, no intimation that the simple-hearted writers counted themselves heroes. But it is not from these narratives that we learn that from the moment he landed on these shores the Protestant missionary took the high place in the affectionate reverence of the people that was at last justly accorded him. Privation and hardship had been accepted as something inevitable, and are only incidentally mentioned or oftener to be inferred. If there is any word of discouragement, it is because the work of the Master seems to be making such slow progress, or because there seems to be absolutely no promise of any harvest from the laborious sowing and tilling.

It was a noble thing for Father Damien to consecrate his life to labor for the wretched victims of a loathsome disease. No Christian withholds from him that reverence and admiration which deeds of heroism always command, and most of all when done without ostentation, simply in His name. For his example of self-sacrifice we honor the man, and rejoice if in him we find a worthy disciple of the Master.

But what shall we say of men who not only forsook home and friends and the comforts of civilized life, but took up their abode for life with a people thoroughly infected with a moral leprosy? And these men came not alone, they brought with them their young wives and planted their homes in the midst of this revolting and most deadly contagion. Their children must, from their infancy, breathe the tainted air, and they themselves must daily and hourly come in contact with the victims of maladies every whit as loathsome in their effects on the souls of men as leprosy on their bodies. How nobly these men and women—for the women were one with the men in their self-sacrifice—stood to their work year after year until, under the blessing of God, the progress of the plague was stayed by their efforts, we all know; but none but the Master has ever known at what a cost the victory was won.

To have been born the son of one of those heroes, I count above any other honor I ever hope to attain. In this family gathering, I may speak freely of this. We are, by birth or adoption, children of men who forsook all to do the work of the Master. Shall we be content to share by inheritance the glory that is their due without making ourselves partakers with them in the consecration of life through which they gained their crown? What then shall we do? Forsake kindred and home, and do elsewhere the work that they have accomplished here? Yes, if it is to that that the Master calls us. But we must clearly understand that it is not because our fathers suffered privation and peril that they merit distinction. Their achievement commands our admiration, not because it involved such difficulties, but because of their invincible courage in meeting obstacles which would, to others, have seemed insuperable; nay, rather, because their lives expressed something of the divine attribute of love for the ungrateful and undeserving that made the humble life of the Son of Man the most glorious the world has ever seen.

It has been said again and again by the enemies of the missionary that these men have taken care, whenever it was possible, to surround themselves with the comforts of life, as though they had somehow failed in their obligation by so doing. In fact, they would have failed in their obligation had they not done all in their power to encourage by example as well as by precept habits of thrift and industry among the people they were trying to lift up to a higher plane of living.

It is true, too, that they often refused to accept offers of gifts freely made to them by men whose gratitude they had earned, for the reason that the possession of wealth would have diverted them from the object to which they consecrated their lives. It is probably true that most of the missionary fathers might have become wealthy had they felt free to take what was not only freely offered, but urgently pressed on their acceptance. In a sense, they were under a vow of poverty—and how nobly and steadfastly they kept their vow, many of us know.

I hope I may be pardoned for speaking of facts so familiar to most of us. The conditions of the present are so changed that strangers cannot be blamed if they believe the statements to the contrary that are now so industriously circulated by anti-missionaries.

Most of the missionary fathers have gone to their reward. Their treasures were laid up where moth and rust do not corrupt, and they are to-day rich indeed. To us they left no heritage of gold, or jewels or land. A richer bequest they left us; we inherit the fruits of their work in the material prosperity which the Christian civilization they established here has made possible. But this, unless we rightly improve it, may be a curse rather than a blessing to us. That which they have bequeathed to us as their most highly prized possession is their work itself. They brought hither the glad tidings of salvation; but the preaching of the gospel, although central in all they attempted was a small part of their work, which aimed not only to evangelize but to civilize the Hawaiian. They accomplished much, but the noble social edifice they builded has been already subjected to unforeseen accidents. Heterogeneous material has been wrought into its structure. Influences are at work undermining its very foundations. It is for us to exercise continual vigilance to see that the design of the builders be not frustrated, and that the whole structure be not brought indeed to untimely ruin.

This Society represents the purpose and pledge of the children to accept this inheritance from the fathers. But our work is not that of pioneers. We find ourselves members of a highly civilized society. We are no longer compelled to engage day by day in a hand to hand conflict with ignorance and superstition and vice—although a guerilla warfare must be still kept up with these, and that not without discouraging reverses. But the conditions of our life are little different from those that prevail in other Christian lands. The work of our fathers was revolutionary. Ours is conservative. They sought to establish a new social order. We have only to preserve and perfect the existing order. Their work was didactic. Ours must be to exemplify principles of life already well known in theory. To give emphasis to their teaching, it was necessary that they should live lives of severe self denial. To some of us it has happened that energy and persistence and integrity have brought their reward of material prosperity. It is not by any means a majority of us that are "rich," but on the other hand few of us know anything about grinding poverty. On the whole our outward prosperity is in strong contrast with the humble circumstances of our fathers. Invidious comment is constantly made on this contrast, until we are led to ask the question, which might otherwise seem a preposterous one, Have we, Christians, a right to be rich?

Why not, we might ask in turn. Because, we shall be told, it is said on the highest authority, Ye cannot serve God and Mammon. The answer to that is self evident. One may own large property and not be a worshipper of Mammon. Of course the Christian may not make wealth his god.

But, we are told again, You cannot devote your time and energy to the acquisition of riches and do your duty as a disciple of Jesus Christ. Again we may reply, why not? Do we find men who are diligent in business wanting in patriotism or in family affection? Nay, is it not such men who are most likely to be loyal to family and friends and country? Why may they not be equally loyal to the divine sovereign to whom they have voluntarily sworn allegiance?

A life devoted to strenuous exertion in any direction must bring one in contact constantly with his fellow men. It cannot fail to increase rather than to narrow one's opportunities for influence. I must select for my life work that for which I seem to find my capacities best adapted. To a few only is it given to hold high offices even in the kingdom of God. "Are all Apostles?" Paul says: "Are all prophets? Are all teachers?" These best gifts we are to "covet earnestly," but if other talents are committed to us instead, we may not wrap them in a napkin and bury them like the man in the parable.

If I am gifted with the capacity to organize industrial enterprises, is it not my duty to engage in such enterprises, and to set therein an example of pluck and diligence and energy? In doing so I shall certainly grow rich, unless I refuse to accept the natural reward of my industry—and the laborer is worthy of his hire. And how can I better aid the work of the Master than by earning money thus to devote to missionary enterprises which must be maintained by the contributions of Christians? I see no reason why I may not as thoroughly consecrate an income of $100,000 a year, as I might one of $1,000, and I am certain that I should be at liberty to employ a much larger share of it in works of benevolence.

But you do not propose to devote your whole income to benevolent objects; you will surround yourself, will you not, with all the comforts and many of the luxuries of life. What right, as a Christian, have you to live in a style so different from that of the men who will do the real work connected with your "benevolent enterprises?"

That thought, I confess, troubles me sometimes. But I believe I should wrong not only myself but humanity were I to deny myself the gratification of my higher tastes, although I knew that multitudes of my fellows, who perhaps possess equally the same tastes, are unable to gratify them. There are multitudes, too, I know of my fellow men who are in want of the very necessities of life. Must I see that there is no one starving anywhere before I consent to taste food? I could not myself conscientiously spend large sums for personal gratification, however rich I might be, but I do not regard the money so spent as devoted after all wholly to self. If the gratification is a legitimate one—and otherwise I could not in any case indulge it—the money which I pay for it is bread and butter to some worthy person; and indirectly I make it easier also for others to secure the same kind of gratification. I assist in creating a demand for legitimate pleasures, and so aid in diverting the energies of men from harmful into innocent and useful channels.

I hold it, indeed, the duty of every Christian to spend as much money wisely as he can conscientiously—not much for ice cream and cake, none at all for wine and cigars, but generous sums for good books, fine pictures, high art in every form; if you have no taste for such things yourself, make presents of them to your friends who have.

There is another reason why I am not only willing but desirous to be rich. It is because, while money commands influence, much of the money in the world is in the hands of men who use it in the service of the devil. If it is only bad men who are rich, we can scarcely hope that our laws will represent the wishes of any but bad men. It is true that they are free to use money for bribery and we are not, and that therefore in their hands money has a certain power that it has not in ours. Yet wealth in the hands of men of uncompromising integrity commands after all a higher respect than that which offers itself to purchase iniquitous laws.

In these days of socialistic agitation, we shall be likely to hear more radical objections urged against the possession of wealth than any thus far considered. The wealth of the world is very unequally and unfairly distributed. A small share only goes to the men who do the world's hard work. It is shrewdness and sharp practices that are rewarded rather than plodding industry. Every man is justly entitled to an equal share in the earnings of the community. What he appropriates more than this, although in accordance with law and custom is his only through robbery of others. No man of any nobility of character can be willing to accept as his that which belongs of right to another. Least of all can the Christian, who professes to be governed by the great law, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself"—least of all can the Christian permit himself to call his own that which the customs of our time allow him to claim, if it exceed his just share.

There is force in the reasoning, especially when it is urged by disinterested men. There is great inequity in the rewards bestowed on human exertion. So is there great uncertainty in the provisions which lead us to invest capital or labor in this or that enterprise. My venture brings me all that I hoped. My neighbor, with a judgment as good as mine, finds the fates against him, and loses all he risked. For us equally the motto was: "Nothing venture, nothing have." In either case it was the hope of reward which sustained us in efforts more strenuous than most of our fellow men put forth. Take away this stimulus, and who would be found willing to take such risks, when the ordinary lines of industry would earn a sufficient and certain livelihood?

There is great room for improvement, no doubt, in our social organizations. The principle of co-operation may well take the place in larger measure than now of that of rivalry or antagonism. But a condition in which the right of property is transferred from the individual to the community, could it be established and maintained, would, after all, be one of hopeless slavery. That men may be driven by the tyranny of corporations and combinations to take refuge in this species of slavery is perhaps possible. Combinations of capital must lead to combinations of labor, and these may grow into communistic organizations, which must in the end become one with the State.

There is room for honest difference of opinion with regard to the desirability of such a result, and the question is too broad to be further discussed here. It suffices to say that, as society is now constituted, the right of property is fundamental. The right makes possible fraud, theft, robbery. It is only fair to say that a communistic scheme would not exclude these, but the way to express my condemnation of them is not to refuse to hold property at all, but to demonstrate that property can be honestly earned.

It must be remembered that all the wealth I do honestly earn represents an equivalent service rendered to my fellow man. Riches I obtain in any other way, unless it be by gift or bequest, are not mine by any real right. In proportion then that riches represent the reward of services rendered to society, it becomes from the Christian and humanitarian standpoint a duty to acquire wealth—to acquire, I say, not to hoard wealth.

The money I earn is mine to spend, so much is clear. If I spend it all as fast as I earn it, I shall not grow rich. Is it my duty then to pledge myself to give away or spend each year my entire income? No, for the money I have earned is treasured energy, my own energy, which still has productive power. By its aid I may double my legitimate earnings next year, and so in the end be able to do greater good with it.

I am afraid I weary you with rehearsing these principles of economics, and yet we need to be very familiar with them to have ready an answer to the carpings of the envious and the scoffs of the ungodly. I have endeavored to show that the Christian is not bound as a Christian to any vow of poverty. He is free to choose such a service of the Master as may involve privation and hardship, and such a choice is always a noble one, but it is not for the sake of hardship or privation that he should make the choice. It is even possible that he may throw away his real opportunity in life by choosing with reference to these considerations alone.

It is not sacrifice as such the Master asks of us. It is love, and that is the golden key that unlocks the gate to every path leading heavenward.

To the most of us there will be room enough yet for self denial if we have a tithe of the love for the Master and for those whom he came to redeem that our fathers had.

We have recognized in some measure our responsibility as a society by the appropriations we have made for the coming year. That we are able to pledge six or seven thousand dollars towards the work to which our fathers consecrated their all is matter not for self gratulation, but for sincere thankfulness. Looking back on the record of past years, when every dollar contributed represented a positive sacrifice, we rejoice that the means for compassing larger objects are now ours.

The founding, under the direct guardianship of our society of the new Industrial Home for educated Hawaiian girls, marks, as was said the other evening, an epoch in the history of this organization. It puts us more directly in touch with the work for which our money has been contributed. We have been asking ourselves how we might stir up new interest in the Cousins' society. There will be little occasion to discuss this question if once we set ourselves to work in earnest. The society is therefore deeply indebted to those members who pointed out this new avenue for benevolent effort. But let us not think that we are even now doing all that can be asked of us. We may be sure that our muscles of benevolence will grow with exercise, and so we may seek out yet other objects equally worthy, trusting the promise that the liberal soul shall be made fat.

Our society does not seek to accumulate money. It asks of its members liberal contributions, seeking the privilege of disbursing some of our gifts. There are demands upon us also from other quarters for help in carrying on the Master's work. To all we must give heed, but it is through this memorial society that we especially delight to make expression of our loyalty to the cause for which our fathers gave themselves.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS.

PREAMBLE.

We, the children of the American Protestant Mission to the Hawaiian Islands, desiring to promote the cause of Gospel Missions, as well as to strengthen the bonds of union that naturally exist amongst us, do hereby organize ourselves into a Social Missionary Society, under the following Constitution and By-Laws:

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE 1. This Society shall be called "THE HAWAIIAN MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY."

ART. 2. The design of the Society is to cherish and promote union amongst its members, to cultivate in them an active missionary spirit, stir them up to good work, and more especially to assist in the support of Christian Missions.

ART. 3. The officers of the Society shall be a President, Vice-President, Recording Secretary, a Home and a Foreign Corresponding Secretary, and Treasurer, all of whom shall be elected by ballot at the Annual Meeting of the Society, to hold office for one year.

ART. 4. No one is eligible to fill the office of President for two consecutive years.

ART. 5. At each Annual Meeting of the Society, two members shall be chosen by ballot, who together with the officers mentioned in Article 3, and such members as may be chosen by the Auxiliary Societies in accordance with Article 9, shall constitute a Board of Managers, and who shall hold office for one year.

ART. 6. Any descendant of those who are, or have been members of the American Protestant Mission to these Islands, and the descendants of all those admitted into the Society in accordance with Article 7, are entitled to join the Society by paying into the Treasury the sum of one dollar annually, which shall constitute one an Annual Member, or paying at any one time the sum of ten dollars, which shall constitute one a Life Member.

ART. 7. Any other persons in active sympathy, with the object and aims of the Society may become members by recommendation of the Board of Managers, approved by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the Society on payment of fees as in Article 6.

ART. 8. Any number of Life Members, resident elsewhere than in Honolulu, pledging not less than $25 annually to the Treasurer of this Society, may form an "Auxiliary" (to consist of Annual and Life Members of the Society) by the appointment of such officers, and the making of such regulations as they may wish; provided however, all be done in conformity with Article 2 of the Constitution.

ART. 9. Any Auxiliary Society, pledging not less than $100 per annum, shall be entitled to elect annually one member of the Board of Managers of the Parent Society, to hold office one year from its Annual Meeting.

ART. 10. All members of the American Protestant Mission are ex officio Honorary Members of this Society. Any person may be admitted as an Honorary Member of this Society by the consent of a majority of the Board of Managers, approved by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the Society.

ART. 11. Any member may appeal from any action of the Board of Managers, to the Society, at any regular meeting. If the appeal is seconded, such action may be reversed by a majority vote of the members present.

ART. 12. The Society shall hold a regular meeting on such a Saturday evening of each month as it may approve, and an Annual Meeting in May or June.

ART. 13. Each member shall receive a certificate of membership in the following form, to be signed by the President and countersigned by the Treasurer:

Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to dwell together in unity.—Ps. cxxiii:1.

This may Certify that

Having paid the sum of.....Dollars into the Treasury, is a.....Member of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society.

One generation passeth away and another cometh but the earth abideth forever.—Eccl. i:4.

Charity suffereth long and is kind; not easily provoked, and thinketh no evil.—Cor. xiii:4, 5.

ART. 14. Alterations in, or additions to, this Constitution may be made at the Annual Meeting, by a vote of three-fourths of the members present, such alterations or additions having been handed in, in writing, at the previous Meeting of the Board of Managers by any member of the Society.

* By resolution of the Society the time for the regular Monthly Meetings is fixed on the Saturday immediately preceding the fulling of the moon.

BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE I.—OF THE OFFICERS.

SECTION 1. The President shall preside over the meetings of the Society, deliver an address before the Society at its Annual Meeting, upon vacating his office; appoint all committees not otherwise provided for; sign all certificates of membership; arrange the programme of exercises for each regular meeting, consulting with the Chairmen of the various committees, and he may convene the Society to Special Meetings at his discretion. SEC. 2. The Vice-President shall audit the Annual Report of the Treasurer, and perform all the duties of the President in case of his absence.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the Recording Secretary to keep a record of the proceedings of the Society at its several meetings, and make out an abstract report of the proceedings of the Society, during his term of office, at its Annual Meeting. He shall also be ex officio Secretary of the Board of Managers, and shall furnish the Treasurer with a certified copy of every order on the Treasurer authorized by the Board.

SEC. 5. The Corresponding Secretaries shall carry on the correspondence of the Society at home and abroad; take charge of the books and papers of the Society, excepting the files of the Maile Wreath, and report at its Annual Meeting.

SEC. 5. The Treasurer shall receive and safely keep all moneys belonging to the Society; pay over such moneys as may be directed from time to time by the Board of Managers, for the purpose of defraying such expenses as shall have been incurred by their order, such order having the signature of the Recording Secretary; shall countersign all certificates of membership; and shall, at the Annual Meeting of the Society, present an accurate statement of the receipts and disbursements of the Society during the year.

ARTICLE II.—OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

SEC. 1. It shall be the duty of the Board of Managers to superintend all business transactions of the Society not otherwise provided for in the Constitution, and to keep full and correct minutes of all its own proceedings.

SEC. 2. Any member of the Society desiring to bring any business before the Board of Managers, shall make known such business in a written application to some member of the Board, who shall lay it before the Board for their action thereon.

SEC. 3. The Board shall decide upon all applications for membership under Articles 7 and 10 of the Constitution; and also upon the disposition of the funds of the Society.

SEC. 4. The minutes of the Board shall be read before the Society at each regular meeting for acceptance and adoption.

SEC. 5. Any vacancies occurring in the Board of Managers, by death or otherwise, shall be refilled by regular election of the Society at the earliest succeeding meeting.

SEC. 6. The regular meetings of the Board shall be held at such times as the Board may determine, within seven days immediately preceeding the regular meeting of the Society. The Secretary of the Board shall note the members present at each meeting.

SEC. 7. Special meetings of the Board may be called by the President at his discretion, or by three members thereof.

ARTICLE III.—DUTIES OF MEMBERS.

The members of the Society are expected to attend the regular meetings of the Society, as far as may be possible; to perform all such duties as may, from time to time, be assigned to them; to collect all information that may be useful or interesting to the Society, and at each regular meeting contribute to the funds of the Society, according to their generosity and means.

ARTICLE IV.—OF MEETINGS.

The regular monthly meetings of the Society shall be opened by prayer and singing; the minutes of the last meeting shall be read by the Recording Secretary; the minutes of the Board of Managers shall then be read and acted upon; a collection shall be taken up by the Treasurer; the entertainment provided for in Article 5 shall then be in order; next shall follow miscellaneous business; after which the meeting shall be closed by singing.

The monthly meetings of the Society shall be open to such guests as any of the members may invite as being in sympathy with the Society and its objects.

ARTICLE V.—STANDING COMMITTEES.

There shall be a committee of one on music, who shall be chosen quarterly, to aid in providing for the profitable entertainment of each monthly meeting.

There shall be a Committee of four, consisting of two ladies and two gentlemen, to be elected every four months, to conduct a monthly paper, the purpose of which shall be to develop more fully the intellectual resources of the Society, and add to the Missionary interest of each monthly meeting.

There shall be a Committee of one, to be appointed annually, whose duty it shall be to provide the editors of the Maile Wreath with suitable stationery, and to be responsible for the safe keeping of the file of the Maile Wreath.

ARTICLE VI.—RULES OF ORDER.

SEC. I. In miscellaneous business, no one shall speak more than five minutes at a time, without permission from the Society.

SEC. 2. In all other points of order, the presiding officer shall be guided by the rules laid down in Cushing's Manual.

ARTICLE VII.

These By-Laws may be altered or annulled by a vote of two-thirds of the members present at any regular meeting, notice of each amendment having been given at the meeting next preceding.

* By resolution of the Society, the President with the two elective members of the Board of Managers shall constitute a committee on entertainment, whose duty it shall be to secure additional attractions for our regular meetings especially in the line of addresses or lectures.
